* The proper readings for the Saint match the Scripture reference to the Order of Mass

^ An obligatory memorial is celebrated today, this is the assigned Lectionary reading for the day, not for the memorial

Visit the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops' Roman Missal website for detailed resources on the scriptural roots of the revised translation.

Additional Consideration - "Pro-multis"

The following scripture passages, while not directly related to a part of the translation of the Mass may be of interest to homilists in relation to the institution narrative translation of "pro multis". Some members of the assembly may be concerned with the translation from "for all" to "for many". The readings that follow clearly show that Jesus died for all. The following dates may be opportunities to reinforce the message Jesus died for all.
