

The Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist, the Mother Church of the Diocese of Cleveland, has been part of the Diocese since the very beginning.

The original structure was dedicated November 7, 1852, under Bishop Rappe, and featured a center steeple.

Under Archbishop Hoban, the Cathedral was rebuilt and enlarged, as pictured here. It was consecrated on September 6, 1948.

175th Anniversary

