Lannie Davis-Frecker, President and CEO, Julie Billiart Schools

God is Good....All the Time, at Julie Billiart Schools

Lannie Davis-Frecker is no stranger to the field of special education. After earning a Bachelor of Science degree in Education with a Pre-K Special Needs Endorsement from the University of Dayton, Lannie began her teaching career as an intervention specialist in 2nd grade, then Kindergarten at Julie Billiart Schools (JBS) Lyndhurst campus. As a 10-year tenured faculty member at JBS, Lannie has also served as Assistant Principal and Director of Special Education as well as vice president. Before joining JBS, Lannie shared her knowledge and expertise with the Diocese of Charlotte, North Carolina where she designed and implemented a special education program and, simultaneously, served as the program’s case manager and intervention specialist.

Today, as President and CEO of JBS, Lannie is the driving force behind the expansion and growth of the Julie Billiart Schools Network. With campuses currently in Lyndhurst and Akron and plans for a third campus in 2021, Lannie’s vision to serve over 700 students with unique academic and social learning needs throughout Northeast Ohio is soon becoming a reality.

Lannie earned a Master’s Degree in Educational Administration from John Carroll University. She was a long time member of the School Choice Ohio Board of Directors, serves as an advisor to the Academic Support Center at Notre Dame College, and is a member of numerous grant committees. As an associate of the Sisters of Notre Dame, Lannie lives out the charism and mission of the schools’ founders and patroness, St. Julie Billiart.
